UNIVERSAL CREDIT

How Universal Credit works

You'll usually get one monthly payment to cover your living costs. If you claim Universal Credit as a couple, you and your partner will get one payment between the 2 of you. The payment is made up of a basic 'standard allowance' and extra payments that might apply to you depending on your circumstances.

You might be able to get extra payments if you:

look after one or more children

work and pay for childcare need help with housing costs are disabled or have a health condition are a carer for a disabled person or you have a disabled child

If you're working

You can work and still get Universal Credit - your Universal Credit will reduce gradually as you earn more. Your Universal Credit will go up if your job ends or you earn less.

If you're self-employed, your payment might also be affected by how much the DWP expect you to earn each month - this expected amount is called your 'minimum income floor'.

UNIVERSAL CREDIT

To find out more about applying for Universal Credit please log on to the following video on Utube

<https://youtu.be/E7GUu7Xa7Nw>

To apply log on to Apply for Universal Credit - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

It can be daunting applying for a new benefit, our Welfare Rights Officers are here to help take you through the process if you need support.

NEW STYLE JOBSEEKER'S ALLOWANCE/NEW STYLE
EMPLOYMENT SUPPORT ALLOWANCE

You can also claim these benefits if you have enough national insurance contributions. For example:

if you're unemployed, check if you can claim new style Job Seekers Allowance also called 'new style' JSA

if you can't work because of illness or disability, you may be entitled to new style Employment and Support Allowance also called 'new style' ESA

If you get either of these benefits, your Universal Credit will be reduced, but it might still be worth claiming.

HOUSING BENEFIT(HB)/COUNCIL TAX REDUCTION SCHEME (CTR)

HB/CTR

- If you are on a low income and have savings of under £16,000.00, you may be entitled to a reduction in your Housing Costs and Council Tax. Please note that any new claims for Housing Benefit applicants need to be of pension age otherwise a claim for Universal Credit should be made.
- If you think you may be eligible and have not already applied, please contact our Welfare Rights Team for more information.

SECOND ADULT REBATE

Second Adult - The percentage of Council Tax rebate which may be available to you under this scheme is based on the financial circumstances – whether in work or not – of the adult who lives with you:

You may be entitled to a 25% rebate on your Council Tax bill if the adult who lives with you is in receipt of: • Income Support • Pension Credit • Income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance (JSA) • Income-related Employment and Support Allowance (ESA). Note that when calculating any rebate you may be entitled to we will ignore any income received from payment of Disability Living Allowance (DLA), Attendance Allowance and Personal Independence Payment (PIP). If the second adult in your household is getting Universal Credit (UC), although this is a benefit, you won’t automatically get a 25% rebate. Instead, you should think of them as ‘not on benefits’ for this purpose and treat their Universal Credit award (including any earnings they may have alongside this) as income.

The ‘in work’ income thresholds apply when working and affect the level of benefit.

SCOTTISH WELFARE FUND

The Scottish Welfare Fund This is intended to offer grants for two purposes Crisis Grants and Community Care Grants:

Crisis Grants provide a safety net in an emergency or when there is an immediate threat to health and safety.

Community Care Grants enable independent living or support when families are facing exceptional pressure.

Getting in touch with the Welfare Rights Team is the first step to maximising your potential income and managing your money well. The Welfare Rights Team provide free, impartial and confidential support to claim all benefits and entitlements.

SCOTTISH GOVERNMENT CHILD PAYMENT

Scottish Child Payment is a new payment for families on tax credits or certain benefits to help towards the costs of looking after a child. It is a payment of £80 paid every four weeks for each child under six and does not affect any other UK or Scottish Government benefits that you may currently be in receipt of. Its extension to children under 16 by the end of 2022, subject to the DWP making data available, will see the number of eligible children more than double to 400,000. It's completely up to you what you choose to spend the money on. You could use the payment for things like travel costs, nappies and other essentials, childcare or family days out. The qualifying benefits are: • Child Tax Credit • Income Support • Pension Credit • Working Tax Credit • Universal Credit • Income-based Jobseeker's Allowance (JSA) • Income-related Employment and Support Allowance (ESA) Social Security Scotland will ask for evidence that the person applying is responsible for a child under six, usually through the child being named on a benefit claim form. If more than one person applies for the same child, there's a process for deciding who gets the payment - prioritising the person who the child lives with most of the time. Scottish Child Payment will not be taken into account for UK benefit and tax credit assessments and there is no cap on the number of children this payment can support. Find out more information and apply at: www.mygov.scot/scottish-child-payment or call Social Security Scotland on 0800 182 2222.

- Child Disability Payment (Social Security Scotland)
- Personal Independence Payment (from August 2022 will become Adult Disability Payment Social Security Scotland)
- Attendance Allowance(UK Government Benefit)

PENSION CREDITS

Pension Credit is an income-related benefit designed to provide extra money for pensioners to bring their weekly income up to a minimum amount. In addition, no tax is payable on awards of Pension Credit and receipt of this benefit can open up eligibility to other entitlements, such as a free TV Licence if you are over the age of 75, along with Council Tax Reduction and housing costs. Pension Credit is made up of two elements: Guarantee Credit and Savings Credit

Guarantee Credit For single pensioners with a weekly income of less than £182.60, Guarantee Credit could provide a top up to your income. Similarly, couples can also receive a top up if their weekly income is less than £278.70. It is important to note that you may still be eligible even if you have savings, a pension or your own home

Savings Credits

The second element is Savings Credit which is an extra payment for people who saved some money towards their retirement, for example a pension. Savings Credit is only available for people who reached state retirement age before April 2016. However, if you're in a couple and your partner reached state pension age before 6th April 2016, you could still qualify.

If you're a carer, severely disabled, responsible for a child or young person, or have certain housing costs, you may qualify for more.

PENSION CREDIT

- When you apply for Pension Credit your income is calculated.

This takes into account: State Pension, other pensions, most social security benefits, for example Carer's Allowance, savings, investments over £10,000 and earnings.

You can start your application for Pension Credit up to 4 months before you reach State Pension age.

Additional entitlements available

In addition to the top-ups available through this benefit, receipt of Pension Credit also acts as a “gateway” to other benefits which could boost your income. These include: • Free TV Licence if you are over the age of 75 (£159.00 per year); • Council Tax Reduction / Housing Costs; • some health costs (such as hospital travel or glasses); • Warm Home Discount (£140 per year); and • Cold Weather Payments (£25 for each seven-day period below zero degrees Celsius).

ACHA's Welfare Rights Team can assist with the Pension Credit application process, along with free, impartial and confidential support to claim all benefits and entitlements: Phone: 0800 028 2755. If you wish to apply directly, please call: The Pension Service on 0800 99 1234 or apply online at www.gov.uk/pension-credit/how-to-claim. You can claim at any time after you reach State Pension age and your claim can be backdated by a period of up to 3 months. This means you could get up to 3 months' of Pension Credit in your first payment if you were eligible during that time.
