

Welfare Rights Service

The benefits system is complicated and always changing. We aim to make sure that you are getting everything that you are entitled to. Even if you have been refused in the past, rules may have changed.

We can give one to one advice and assist with applications for any benefits that you may be entitled to. If you are refused a benefit we can also assist and represent you to appeal any decisions.

Contact Lorraine McGinty for advice today on 01546 605907

Your Welfare Rights Officer can help increase income and can give advice on rent arrears.

The Welfare Rights Service is free and confidential and could result in you getting benefits that you are entitled to.

Millions of pounds go unclaimed each year in this area and not just by those who aren't working. Those in low paid or part time work are often missing out and changes like having a baby can often mean more money.

Welfare Rights officers can tell you what you are entitled to and can assist you to make applications. If you have a benefit refusal they can represent you and advise how to appeal a decision. There are different benefits available if you

- Are sick or disabled
- Need help with your rent or council tax
- Have children
- Are retired
- Are looking for work or have lost your job
- Work part time or in low paid work
- Are looking after someone
- Need help with one-off costs

You can contact your local housing office to make an appointment or call the Welfare Rights Officer for your area.
